From the Administrator's Desk: Fr Ton NguyenCommunity Is a Gift

As I write my first bulletin article as your administrator, I want to begin by saying thank you. Thank you for the warm welcome you have already extended to me. During these first days among you, I have been filled with gratitude and excitement as I begin getting to know the parish family of St. Mother Theodore Guerin.

This weekend, our nation celebrates Independence Day. For many of us, July 4th means fireworks, family gatherings, long weekends, and summer celebrations. Yet true freedom is much deeper than anything we can celebrate externally. It is ultimately a gift from God—a freedom of the heart that allows us to trust Him completely. St. Pier Giorgio Frassati, whose feast day falls on July 4, expressed this beautifully when he said, “Jesus is with me. I have nothing to fear.”

God created us in His image, and God Himself is communion: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. From this mystery flows our call to live not in isolation but in community.

Our patroness, St. Mother Theodore Guerin, understood this well. When she arrived in Indiana, she faced uncertainty, hardship, and challenges that would have discouraged many people. Yet she trusted deeply in God’s providence and built communities rooted in faith, sacrifice, and love. Her example reminds us that a parish, a family, a school, or a religious community is not made up of perfect people who always agree. Rather, it is a gathering of people whom God has called together and entrusted to one another.

One of my favorite scenes from I Prefer Heaven tells the story of two boys whom St. Philip Neri welcomed into his Oratory: Pierotto and Half-Loaf. Pierotto eventually became a brilliant theologian and naturally grew proud of his accomplishments. When he returned expecting praise and honor, Philip assigned him to kitchen duty. Meanwhile, Half-Loaf, burdened by shame and convinced he had ruined his life, finally found the courage to return home. Philip welcomed him with a feast.

Imagine studying theology for years only to end up chopping onions while the “problem child” gets the party! Yet through the parable of the Prodigal Son, Pierotto finally understood. God’s family is not built on achievement but on mercy. Community flourishes when we learn to rejoice in one another’s blessings and extend grace to one another’s weaknesses.

As we begin this journey together, I look forward to learning your stories, praying with you, and walking alongside you in faith. I love being a priest, and I am truly grateful to be here at St. Mother Theodore Guerin. Let us continue climbing the mountain of holiness together, trusting that God has wonderful things in store for our parish.

One final note: if you are wondering how to pronounce my name, think of singing a song—you need a tone! And if I forget your name, please do not be offended. Keep reminding me! I look forward to seeing you at Mass, parish events, around town, and wherever our paths may cross.

May God bless you and your families!

JMJ,
Fr. Ton Nguyen

Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

These days, everyone's an expert. We have a world of information at our fingertips. But some answers can't be found in newspapers or even history books. What God hides from the wise, He reveals to the little ones. Are you looking in the right place?

Observances for the week of July 5, 2026

Sunday:	14th Sunday in Ordinary Time
Monday:	St. Maria Goretti, Virgin and Martyr
Thursday:	St. Augustine Zhao Rong, Priest, and Companions, Martyrs
Saturday:	St. Benedict, Abbot

Virtues, Explained!

Empathy describes our ability to connect emotionally with the suffering of others, as Christ connected emotionally with our suffering in original sin. This virtue flows directly from the virtue of charity, and growth in charity will enable growth in empathy.

Blessing for Our Country

Dear God,
Bless this land that we love, a land
You created, in love.
We are at our best when we're close to You.
Please inspire, guide, and govern
our leaders and our vision, that our greatness may be founded in and defined in You.
Amen.

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

This weekend, our nation celebrates the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Unlike most nations, the United States was not founded primarily on a shared ethnicity, language, or culture. Instead, our founders built a political community out of diverse peoples united by a shared vision of liberty. That vision echoes something deep in the Christian mystery revealed in today's Gospel.

Jesus returns to his hometown. The people see only what is familiar: the carpenter, the son of Mary, one of their own. As Mark tells us, "They took offense at him. Jesus said, 'A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house.'" Their narrow vision blinds them. Jesus has come to inaugurate a new communion that transcends geography, bloodlines, and culture. He has come to unite all people in himself.

At its best, America's national unity reflects this possibility, which fully subsists only in the Catholic Church. Our unity is not based on ancestry or tribe, but on a shared commitment to higher ideals. For this reason, we can love our country with gratitude while situating patriotism within the broader horizon of faith.

Rooted in Christ, we are less vulnerable to the unholy tribalism that threatens civic life and faith. This weekend, let us thank God for our nation and pray that we also live as citizens of Heaven in Jesus Christ.

The Smallness of Great Faith

My children attend Catechesis of the Good Shepherd (CGS) for their faith formation. Because of its Montessori basis, CGS atriums, which are something like classrooms, contain lots of objects made from real materials — authentic glass, wood, and ceramic.

This is a polite way of saying there are lots of breakable things in there.

So when my four-year-old entered the atrium on her first day of CGS, my whole body tensed, wondering what she would shatter first. I had to restrain myself from crying out, “Don’t touch anything!” She spotted the prayer table — the low, wooden stand which holds an open Bible, candles, a vase with flowers and a statue of the Good Shepherd. It’s the centerpiece of every atrium.

She knelt before the table. She made the sign of the cross. And she sat there, still and silent.

I stopped dead in my tracks. How had she known to come here? And where did she learn to make the sign of the cross? (Obviously we’ve tried to teach her, but she does it wrong every time!) And why was she sitting there so quietly, so expectantly, in front of a book she can’t read?

A thought came to me so clearly: Well, Colleen, you can read that book. But can you understand it?

It is so easy for us to forget that great faith does not require great intelligence. It does not require great knowledge of the world and its workings. Great faith does not require the believer to possess any answers.

Great faith only requires the believer to know his own smallness.

— Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Why do we do that?

Catholic Life Explained

Question:

The Bible says that Jesus condemned gambling, but I notice that so many parishes have them at festivals and other events. What’s correct?

Answer:

Although Jesus speaks of our relationship with material wealth and the very human struggle with greed, the gospels do not include any specific instructions related to gambling. At the same time, the Church is very sensitive to the needs of those who might struggle with an addiction to gambling, and pastoral care should always be offered to those who struggle with this reality in their life.

While it is true that many parish or school communities include gambling or games of chance in festivals and fundraisers (e.g. bingo, roulette, ring tossing, dunking booths, etc.), there is nothing inherently wrong these sorts of events, given they are played fairly and within the limits of reason are not morally objectionable. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us: “Games of chance (card games, etc.) or wagers are not in themselves contrary to justice. They become morally unacceptable when they deprive someone of what is necessary to provide for his needs and those of others” (no. 2413).

As in all things, moderation and a sense of healthy limits should be applied to gambling and games of chance. For those who find themselves living with addiction to gambling, help is available in various 12-step and addiction recovery programs.
